On March 1st, I had the opportunity to meet with Mrs. Cook after having graduated from OCS 31 years ago. We had wonderful visit! Plus she remembered me as Peggy (as I mostly go by Margaret now)!

Mrs. Cook worked at OCS for 38 years and retired in 2004. Why so long? Because she loved to teach! As we discussed teaching, I asked her why she chose to use the same books over and over each year? Her response was that once she closed the door to her room, she was with a whole new group of students than the year before. So each year brought new ideas, answers, adventures and relationships.

OCS ENGLISH TEACHER

by Margaret DeNeve, Class of 1985

When I was in high school, I did not do as well as I could have and I do regret that today. I had Mrs. Cook for 11th grade English, as most of us did, and I did not enjoy reading books. I didn't like it so I didn't do it. I was the Cliff Notes queen because I didn't want to read a book. One day, Mrs. Cook was at the front of the class and was giving us yet another book to read. In front of the whole class she said, "No one is to use the Cliff Notes for this book and then she looked directly at me!" I was scared! But what did I do? I ran out and purchased the Cliff Note once again! I knew that since I chose not to read, I was going to fail 11th grade English and that is exactly what I did. Obviously, the Cliffs Notes did not work for me. So I spent the summer at Corcoran High School taking 11th grade English again. I wish I listened and knew then what I know now. Mrs. Cook said motto is to DO something and to ACT to help advance the world so the future is better for those who come after us. What better way to ensure the future of our society than to focus on positive growth. Mrs. Cook also stated, "I was privileged every day to have an adventure with plus or minus 126 young people to help them take steps further in their growth to learn more about themselves and their unique gifts/abilities, to embrace the outside or the unknown in order to adapt, to learn to enact positive choices that will help us all become better people. It is my hope that I inspired some young people to follow their talents/strengths, to search being in my class? I hope I have helped students to enter the outside world as an equal to others, able to use their talents to become activists to make change to cure, to create, to add beauty, and to better harmful conditions."

In the end, I have to say, I told Mrs. Cook I was scared of her in high school. I realize now I should have listened because she truly had the desire and passion for her students to learn and to always continue learning. She also tried to instill in her students the desire to do what they could to leave a unique footprint behind for all of us to live in a better world.

WHERE IS MRS. COOK TODAY?

Mrs. Cook lives off of Oneida Lake with her husband, Ron. She loves to keep busy with golfing, bowling, and even sells real estate! She is with Hanna Howard, so if you are thinking of buying or selling a house, look her up!

THANK YOU

The OCSEF Board would like to thank Taylor Featherstone, the 2018 Class President and Salutatorian, for her contributions to Joyful Echoes over the last two years. Taylor took time away from her extracurricular activities and leadership roles at OCS to provide a special student's touch to some of our articles, and her talents will be missed. We wish Taylor the best as she navigates the college selection process with a goal of attending law school.

OCC ADVANTAGE

On Monday, January 22nd, Onondaga Community College and Onondaga Central celebrated their partnership in a college-readiness and scholarship program, "OCC Advantage". Current OCS freshman were eligible to enroll in the program and have the opportunity to build student skills to succeed in high school and college and earn a scholarship covering 4 semesters of full-time enrollment at OCC if requirements are maintained. Congratulations to the 37 Onondaga Central students who signed up for OCC Advantage!

ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT: KEITH HAWKINS

CLASS OF 1948

by Taylor Featherstone, Class of 2018 President

The quote next to Keith Hawkins' yearbook picture states, "A little shy, but just the same, no doubt this boy will rise to fame." That is exactly what Keith Hawkins did.

While at Onondaga Central, Keith was active in football, basketball, and baseball. He was the treasurer of his class and participated in the Senior Play. Keith attended Syracuse University and graduated Magna Cum Laude in 1952. While at S. U., Keith received the Marketing Award from the Syracuse chapter of the American Marketing Association.

After Keith graduated from S. U., he turned his father's farm into a very successful business. What started as a fruit and vegetable stand in 1934 became given to the marketing man of the year of Central New York. Keith also owned a variety of other businesses, served on numerous boards, and received many awards.

Keith, however, has never forgotten his roots. With his farming background, values, intellect, and personality, he created what is considered an icon of the Valley community. Keith continues to give back to the community in numerous ways through his involvement and generosity. Whether it has been sponsoring youth sports teams, providing local employment opportunities, or donating food for various school functions, the OCS community is deeply appreciative of the past, and ongoing, support from Green Hills Farms. What makes Keith a distinguished Today, Keith is now 86 years young and resides with his lovely wife Cheryl in Skaneateles, New York. They continue to actively support the OCS Community, our schools, and students with their generosity and kindness. Thank you Keith for not only being a positive role model, but epitomizing the spirit of Tiger Pride!

JAMES REINHARDT

CLASS OF 1969

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF JOSEPH OWEN SEELY

James wrote about his great-great grandfather Joseph Owen Seely. There are many family names of the South Onondaga, Cardiff, and Navarino areas mentioned.

With information from an autobiography written by Joseph Owen Seely, letters, and research, the times of the author's great-great grandfather comes to life. The life in up-state New York in the early to mid 1800's is mixed with Civil War, the California gold rush, and a developing nation. The letters and diaries give an intimate view of life in these times and are woven into the story of Joseph Owen Seely.

This and James' other books he has written can be found here: <http://scimuze.com/RisingRiver/bookstore.htm>

JAMES MURPHY

CLASS OF 1972

THE SOUTH FRANKLIN TRINITY

James Murphy's new novel, The South Franklin Trinity, takes place in El Puente, TX. A far-west Texas community nestled in the Franklin Mountains. Three signature characters are absorbed in their own personal search for the meaning of life. Their unpredictable destinies cross a fiery path on the third Tuesday of April, 2016.

Visit www.jamesrobertmurphy.com to view Jim's collection of written works as well as some blues recordings by "Austin Jimmy Murphy".
